MATHLETICS

Mathletics is an online programme that provides individualised learning for each student at their own level, instant feedback on their performance and a high level of motivation for the child to perform critical maths tasks on a regular basis. Students really enjoy the programme and it leads to increased confidence and improved achievement levels. The programme provides a wide range of learning experiences that link closely to the maths programmes at school and it can be adapted by the teacher to align with current topics and focus areas.
